Proposed Exploration Program in Block 4, Stavely Arc

Gippsland Prospecting proposes to explore for gold and base metals in the southern part of the Stavely Arc. If an exploration licence is granted, Gippsland Prospecting intends to focus the first three years of its exploration program on understanding the underlying geology and generating targets through ground and airborne geophysical surveys, geochemical work including soil and rock chip sampling and some targeted drilling.

Approach to engaging with communities

Gippsland Prospecting has commenced identifying key community groups and stakeholders within the project area that the company will seek to engage with, through its exploration program. The company intends to establish a number of community engagement events and processes for seeking and responding to community feedback on its proposed program in the Moyston region. The company plans to use local networks such as Landcare to assist in identifying key stakeholders and understanding matters of particular importance to local communities. Gippsland Prospecting seeks to ensure that all activities are conducted in a manner that represents best practice and that meets or exceeds all relevant government environmental and minerals related legislation.
